Reception from 19.00

Host:

Lawrence Graham, 4 More London Riverside, London SE1 2AU

This seminar is organised jointly by the London Shipping Law Centre (LSLC) and
the Norwegian-British Chamber of Commerce (NBCC)

LSLC

The LSLC is a non-profit making specialist Centre of excellence. It delivers continuing professional education involving seminars and debates of high standard in Maritime law and Commercial practice, Transport and Insurance law, International Conventions, European Legislation and Policy, Maritime Safety Regulations and Risk Management, Shipping and Energy, Finance, and Dispute Resolution, for the benefit of all sectors of the shipping industry and the legal profession. It promotes reform in the law and enables the concerns of the industry about legislation to be heard openly at a neutral forum.

The Centre brings together the sectors of the industry and experts for cross-fertilization of ideas and knowledge in multidisciplinary areas. It provides opportunities to its international membership and supporters for creativity, business development and networking. The Centre is more than just a "London legal club".

NBCC

The Norwegian-British Chamber of Commerce (NBCC) is the most important organisation for Norwegian-British business people in the UK. NBCC is an independent non-profit making organisation with approximately 700 members, including more than 100 Norwegian and British companies. NBCC was founded in 1906 and welcomes companies and individuals from Norway, the UK and other countries who wish to be part of the Norwegian-British business community.

NBCC's mission is to promote trade and investment between Norway and the UK, and to provide a professional and social arena for business people. NBCC provides business and networking opportunities and encourages dialogue and exchange of experiences between members.
